

Special Provisions for Books and Supplies under Title IV

Federal regulations [34 CFR 668.164(i)] dictate that if an undergraduate student has a Title IV credit balance on their account 10 days prior to the semester, they are able to use their credit balance amount to obtain their books and supplies through the 7th day of the payment period. The school may use the actual costs of books and supplies or allowance for those materials used in estimating the student's cost of attendance for the period.

A student may opt out of the book voucher by simply not utilizing the established process in place. If a student does opt out, the Title IV credit balance will be issued to the student through the normal process.

In addition, Cedarville University currently allows all undergraduate students to charge books and supplies at the Campus Store up to a $1,000.00 limit on their student account per semester. For fall semester, the timeframe to use the $1,000.00 credit is from the first week of July through the third week of September. For spring semester, the timeframe to use the $1,000.00 credit is from the first week of December through the third week of February.
